This manuscript entitled “Limnology and the sustainable use of water in Brazil: visions and challenges” contains my reflections on the recent past of Limnology, particularly in Brazil and the future I see for it, relying basically in partnerships that shall allow the Brazilian Limnology expands to contribute and benefit from other areas.

I also declare that I have seen and approved this manuscript, that it has not been published and/or submitted simultaneously to another Journal.

This manuscript is intended to be published in the special volume “Limnologia no Brasil” dedicated to Professor Francisco Esteves.
